Will Cyprus' electricity grid handle two-way flows of electricity?

The electricity grid in Cyprus was designed decades ago (1970s) to handle power from large, centralised fossil-fuel plants that generate electricity and push it one-way toward consumers. But with the rise of rooftop solar and commercial PV farms, the system is now expected to handle two-way flows of electricity--something it simply wasn't built for.

How many PV systems are installed in Cypriot homes?

As of December 2023, approximately 10% of Cypriot households have installed PV systems on their rooftops. This translates to around 52,883 connected systems, primarily under net metering arrangements. Upgrading Existing PV Systems with Battery Storage

What is happening with solar energy in Cyprus?

Curtailment Issues & Grid Limitations - Recent articles highlighting curtailment of excess solar energy due to grid instability. The magnitude of the curtailment problem in Cyprus - In 2024, 29% of green electricity was curtailed. This is equivalent of the total annual consumption of approximately 28,000 households.

Why does Cyprus have a lack of solar energy?

Lack of Storage: Unlike other countries with hydroelectric dams or large battery storage facilities, Cyprus has nowhere to store excess solar energy during peak hours. Grid Congestion: In some areas, distribution lines can't handle the extra electricity being pushed into them, forcing operators to curtail solar production.
